EuropaBio – Annual Report on the Code of Conduct on Responsible Food Business and Marketing Practices

July 2024

European Associations pledge to:

- endorse the aspirational objectives set out in this Code (where applicable)

Yes, EuropaBio endorses the aspirational objectives set out in the Code.

- promote and disseminate this Code with(in) their constituency/ies;

The Code of Conduct was discussed in internal working group and Council meetings, including the aspirational objectives and requirements for company signatories. Our pledging document is available on our website. The Code of Conduct and the fact that EuropaBio is a signatory was mentioned in relevant EuropaBio events, including the 2023 edition of the European Forum for Industrial Biotechnology and the Bioeconomy (24-25 October 2023).

- encourage their members to align their sustainability actions and/or business practices to the aspirational objectives and targets of the Code and invite them, on a voluntary basis, to adhere to this Code, as appropriate;

We have included activities as a signatory in our 2024 Strategic Action Plan. Members have been encouraged to consider becoming signatories, and several of our members are already signatories of the Code of Conduct. We will continue to encourage our existing and new members to become signatories.

As mentioned above, promotional activities integrated into existing communications (including social media posts and internal and external newsletters) were used to encourage members and de facto the wider biotech community to adhere to the Code and to create awareness around the Code.

- explore the possibility of developing sector-specific tools and resources in support of this Code;

EuropaBio has not yet explored the possibility of developing sector-specific tools and resources in support of this Code.

- continue to engage in dialogue with other food chain/systems actors and EU and international policy-makers to forge (new) relationships, exchange good practices and discuss challenges encountered, learn from each other (studies, projects) and create better mutual understanding, and identify opportunities for collaboration and potential partnership.

EuropaBio engages with partners across the food chain, notably through the Agri-Food Chain Coalition, several of whose members are also signatories of the Code of Conduct.
