

Annex 6 on Categories of animal by-products not intended for human consumption

NB Differences between EU and UA are highlighted in RED

The Law of Ukraine «On animal by-products not intended for human consumption» (№ 287 of 07.04.2015)	Regulation (EC) No 1069/2009 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 21 October 2009 laying down health rules as regards animal by-products and derived products not intended for human consumption and repealing Regulation (EC) No 1774/2002
Article 11. Category I of animal by-products	Article 8 Category 1 material
1. Animal by-products, belonging to the category I are the following:	Category 1 material shall comprise the following animal by-products:
1) carcasses and parts thereof, including skin of:	(a) entire bodies and all body parts, including hides and skins, of the following animals:
animals suspected to be infected with Spongiform Encephalopathy (SE);	(i) animals suspected of being infected by a TSE in accordance with Regulation (EC) No 999/2001 or in which the presence of a TSE has been officially confirmed;
animals that were slaughtered (killed) within the measures on elimination of SE;	(ii) animals killed in the context of TSE eradication measures;
animals used for scientific purposes;	(iv) animals used in a procedure or procedures defined in Article 3 of Directive 2010/63/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of 22 September 2010 on the protection of animals used for scientific purposes (2), in cases where the competent authority decides that such animals or any of their body parts have the potential to pose serious health risks to humans or to other animals, as a result of

Annex 6 on Categories of animal by-products not intended for human consumption

NB Differences between EU and UA are highlighted in RED

	that procedure or those procedures without prejudice to Article 3(2) of Regulation (EC) No 1831/2003;
wild animals suspected of being infected with diseases transmitted to humans or animals;	(v) wild animals, when suspected of being infected with diseases communicable to humans or animals;
animals from zoo or circus;	(iii) animals other than farmed and wild animals, including in particular pet animals , zoo animals and circus animals
2) specified risk material and the whole carcasses or parts thereof of dead animals from which specified risk material has not been removed at the moment of utilization or disposal;	(b) the following material: (i) specified risk material; (ii) entire bodies or parts of dead animals containing specified risk material at the time of disposal;
3) animal by-products collected during purification of wastewater according to the rules of application of veterinary and sanitary measures from establishments (objects) on treatment, processing of animal by-products belonging to the category I, or from establishments where specified risk material is being removed;	(e) animal by-products collected during the treatment of waste water required by implementing rules adopted under point (c) of the first paragraph of Article 27: (i) from establishments or plants processing Category 1 material; or (ii) from other establishments or plants where specified risk material is being removed;
4) unsafe animal by-products that are not subject of utilization (animal by-products infected or contaminated with anthrax, emphysematous carbuncle, rinderpest, foot-and-mouth disease, camel plague, rabies, tularemia, tetanus, malignant edema, catarrhal fever in cattle and sheep, African swine fever, botulism, glanders, myxomatosis, rabbit haemorrhagic disease, avian influenza, Newcastle disease.	Absent

Annex 6 on Categories of animal by-products not intended for human consumption

NB Differences between EU and UA are highlighted in RED

5) mixtures of animal by-products belonging to the category I with animal by-products belonging to the category II and/or III.	(g) mixtures of Category 1 material with either Category 2 material or Category 3 material or both.
Absent	(c) animal by-products derived from animals which have been submitted to illegal treatment as defined in Article 1(2)(d) of Directive 96/22/EC or Article 2(b) of Directive 96/23/EC;
Absent	(d) animal by-products containing residues of other substances and environmental contaminants listed in Group B(3) of Annex I to Directive 96/23/EC, if such residues exceed the permitted level laid down by Community legislation or, in the absence thereof, by national legislation;
Article 12. Category II of animal by-products	Article 9 Category 2 material
1. Animal by-products, belonging to the category II are the following:	Category 2 material shall comprise the following animal by-products:
1) carcasses and parts thereof, except those referred to in Article 13 of this Law, of animals that have died of infectious diseases, including animals suspected of infection and / or disease, as well as reproductive material not intended for breeding purposes, foetuses, embryos, waste from incubations obtained from such animals;	(f) animals and parts of animals, other than those referred to in Article 8 or Article 10, (i) that died other than by being slaughtered or killed for human consumption, including animals killed for disease control purposes; (ii) foetuses; (iii) oocytes, embryos and semen which are not destined for breeding purposes; and

Annex 6 on Categories of animal by-products not intended for human consumption

NB Differences between EU and UA are highlighted in RED

	(iv) dead-in-shell poultry;
2) animal by-products containing contaminants that exceed permissible levels established according to legislation;	(c) animal by-products containing residues of authorised substances or contaminants exceeding the permitted levels as referred to in Article 15(3) of Directive 96/23/EC;
3) products of animal origin which have been declared unfit for human consumption due to the contamination with infectious diseases;	(d) products of animal origin which have been declared unfit for human consumption due to the presence of foreign bodies in those products;
4) residues collected during purification of wastewater according to the rules of application of veterinary and sanitary measures from establishments (objects) on treatment, processing of animal by-products belonging to the category II, or from slaughterhouses except of those that are animal by-products belonging to the category I or those that have contacted with such animal by-products;	(b) animal by-products collected during the treatment of waste water required by implementing rules adopted under point (c) of the first paragraph of Article 27: (i) from establishments or plants processing Category 2 material; or (ii) from slaughterhouses other than those covered by Article 8(e);
5) imported/exported products of animal origin that do not comply with the requirements of the law on quality and safety of food products;	(e) products of animal origin, other than Category 1 material, that are: ... (i) imported or introduced from a third country and fail to comply with Community veterinary legislation for their import or introduction into the Community except where Community legislation allows their import or introduction subject to specific restrictions or their return to the third country; (ii) dispatched to another Member State and fail to comply with requirements laid down or authorised by Community legislation except where they are returned with the authorisation of the competent authority of the Member State of origin;
6) manure, non-mineralised guano and digestive tract content;	(a) manure, non-mineralised guano and digestive tract content;
7) mixtures of animal by-products belonging to the category II with animal by-products belonging to the category III.	(g) mixtures of Category 2 material with Category 3 material;

Annex 6 on Categories of animal by-products not intended for human consumption

NB Differences between EU and UA are highlighted in RED

Absent	(h) animal by-products other than Category 1 material or Category 3 material.
Article 13. Category III of animal by-products	Article 10 Category 3 material
1. Animal by-products, belonging to the category III are the following:	Category 3 material shall comprise the following animal by-products:
1) carcasses or parts thereof or organs of domestic animals and poultry, wild animals that were declared fit for human consumption following an ante-mortem inspection but after slaughter due to any reason have not been used for such consumption except for ruminants that should be tested for SE;	(a) carcasses and parts of animals slaughtered or, in the case of game, bodies or parts of animals killed, and which are fit for human consumption in accordance with Community legislation, but are not intended for human consumption for commercial reasons;
2) carcasses of ruminants and parts thereof tested for SE with negative results, including skins and trimmings thereof, horns and feet, including the phalanges and the carpus and metacarpus bones, tarsus and metatarsus bones;	(b) carcasses and the following parts originating either from animals that have been slaughtered in a slaughterhouse and were considered fit for slaughter for human consumption following an ante-mortem inspection or bodies and the following parts of animals from game killed for human consumption in accordance with Community legislation: (i) carcasses or bodies and parts of animals which are rejected as unfit for human consumption in accordance with Community legislation, but which did not show any signs of disease communicable to humans or animals; (ii) heads of poultry; (iii) hides and skins, including trimmings and splitting thereof, horns and feet, including the phalanges and the carpus and metacarpus bones, tarsus and metatarsus bones, of:

Annex 6 on Categories of animal by-products not intended for human consumption

NB Differences between EU and UA are highlighted in RED

	— animals, other than ruminants requiring TSE testing, and — ruminants which have been tested with a negative result in accordance with Article 6(1) of Regulation (EC) No 999/2001; (iv) pig bristles; (v) feathers;
3) animal by-products arising from the production of products intended for human consumption, including degreased bones, greaves and centrifuge or separator sludge from milk processing;	(e) animal by-products arising from the production of products intended for human consumption, including degreased bones, greaves and centrifuge or separator sludge from milk processing;
4) animal by-products from hatchery, eggs, egg products, including feathers, heads, feet, eggshells, slaughtered chickens derived from poultry in which there are no signs of infectious diseases that can be transmitted to humans or animals;	(k) the following material originating from animals which did not show any signs of disease communicable through that material to humans or animals: (i) shells from shellfish with soft tissue or flesh; (ii) the following originating from terrestrial animals: — hatchery by-products, — eggs, — egg by-products, including egg shells, (iii) day-old chicks killed for commercial reasons;
5) blood of animals which did not show any signs of disease communicable through blood to humans or animals obtained from animals that have been	(d) blood of animals which did not show any signs of disease communicable through blood to humans or animals obtained from the following animals that

Annex 6 on Categories of animal by-products not intended for human consumption

NB Differences between EU and UA are highlighted in RED

slaughtered in a slaughterhouse after having been considered fit for slaughter for human consumption;	have been slaughtered in a slaughterhouse after having been considered fit for slaughter for human consumption following an ante-mortem inspection in accordance with Community legislation: (i) animals other than ruminants requiring TSE testing; and (ii) ruminants which have been tested with a negative result in accordance with Article 6(1) of Regulation (EC) No 999/2001;
6) blood, placenta, wool, feather, hair, horns, hoofs originating from live animals that did not show any signs of disease communicable through that product to humans or animals except for blood of ruminants that should be tested for spongiform encephalopathy;	(h) blood, placenta, wool, feathers, hair, horns, hoof cuts and raw milk originating from live animals that did not show any signs of disease communicable through that product to humans or animals;
7) aquatic organisms and their parts, except marine mammals, that did not show any signs of disease communicable to humans or animals caught for placing on the market;	(i) aquatic animals, and parts of such animals, except sea mammals, which did not show any signs of disease communicable to humans or animals;
8) animal by-products from aquatic organisms, caught for placing on the market, obtained during production of products intended for human consumption;	(j) animal by-products from aquatic animals originating from establishments or plants manufacturing products for human consumption;
9) carcasses and/or parts thereof of rodents, fur lagomorphs, except of animal by-products belonging to the categories I and II;	(m) animals and parts thereof of the zoological orders of Rodentia and Lagomorpha, except Category 1 material as referred to in Article 8(a)(iii), (iv) and (v) and Category 2 material as referred to in Article 9(a) to (g);
10) feed of animal origin that are not used for feeding of animals including because of the problems with production or packaging defects or other defects that do not pose a risk to humans or animals;	(g) petfood and feedingstuffs of animal origin, or feedingstuffs containing animal by-products or derived products, which are no longer intended for feeding for commercial reasons or due to problems of manufacturing or packaging defects or other defects from which no risk to public or animal health arises;

Annex 6 on Categories of animal by-products not intended for human consumption

NB Differences between EU and UA are highlighted in RED

11) food products of animal origin that are not fit for human consumption but are safe for animal health.	(f) products of animal origin, or foodstuffs containing products of animal origin, which are no longer intended for human consumption for commercial reasons or due to problems of manufacturing or packaging defects or other defects from which no risk to public or animal health arise;
Absent	(c) animal by-products from poultry and lagomorphs slaughtered on the farm as referred to in Article 1(3)(d) of Regulation (EC) No 853/2004, which did not show any signs of disease communicable to humans or animals;
Absent	(n) hides and skins, hooves, feathers, wool, horns, hair and fur originating from dead animals that did not show any signs of disease communicable through that product to humans or animals, other than those referred to in point (b) of this Article;
Absent	(o) adipose tissue from animals which did not show any signs of disease communicable through that material to humans or animals, which were slaughtered in a slaughterhouse and which were considered fit for slaughter for human consumption following an ante-mortem inspection in accordance with Community legislation;
Absent	(p) catering waste other than as referred to in Article 8(f).