Analysis of major deficiencies detected during the non-discriminatory inspections and action plan to address them as provided for in Article 27(2) of Regulation (EC) No 1/2005

Member State CZ Year 2014

1. ANALYSIS OF THE MAJOR DEFICIENCIES DETECTED DURING THE NON-DISCRIMINATORY INSPECT

For the purpose of this annual report, the following have been considered to be major deficiencies:

In 2014, a total of 220 inspections on welfare of farm animals being transported within the territory of the Czech Republic were per The international transport of farm animals was checked in a similar manner. A total of 226 inspections were carried out. Inspection The most common reason for unplanned inspections were reports sent by competent authorities of other Member States, concern A total of 129 inspections were carried out concerning animal transport of companion animals intended for further breeding or sale

2. ACTION PLAN TO ADDRESS THE DEFICIENCIES DESCRIBED UNDER POINT 1.

State Veterinary Administration (SVA) will analyze and evaluate the inspection programme. Based on various parameters, taking int SVA provide training for the RVA inspectors at regular meetings as regards better enforcement of the rules.

SVA will continue with the mutual communication with Member States contact points for animal transport and promote RVA inspe
The checks will be focused on international transport (e.g. transport of animals to Turkey) as well as transport of animals to local sla Communication with transporters and organisers of the journeys will be supported by SVA with an emphasis on prevention.

More detailed information as regards inspection programme can be found in the Multiannual Control Plans Report for the year 201

	•	 TC
Ι,	16	1.

rformed. Attention was focused on the fitness of animals for transport, equipment and maintenance of vehicles and professional competence of persons. In 7 cases a new were focused on fitness of animals and equipment of transport vehicles as well as administrative duties (preparation and submission of the journey log; ensuring a long Czech transporters or transport in the Czech Republic handled by foreign transporter. In these cases several non-compliances were addressed such as insufficient (dogs, cats, ornamental fish, terrarium animals) and zoo animals. The inspections were focused on the conditions of animals, equipment of vehicles and competence to account the results of previous inspections and knowledge of local specifics plan will be modified for specific workplace for the year 2015.

ctors to communicate the cases of non-compliances found in the territory of the Czech Republic. aughterhouses.

.4.

ances were found in individual inspections. Non compliances concerned mainly transport of poultry and cattle. In one case, the RVA inspects the transporters headquarters. They were focused on planning of journeys and compliance with journey times (evaluation of records in jour participated in the investigation of accidents of road vehicles transporting animals within intra-community trade, where several animals we ities form other MS. As regards transport of companion animals, especially dogs, media (including foreign press) presented several cases of	rney logs and information ere killed on the spot and estigation of an accident involving a road vehicle transporting pigs in the Czech Republic. Among the most common deficiencies found at slaughterhouses was: fitner from navigation systems).

trom navigation systems)
others were transported to slaughterhouses.
others were transported to slaughterhouses.

