

EU Platform on Food Losses and Food Waste (FLW): Digital communications tools

Anne-Laure Gassin

European Commission, DG Health and Food Safety
Unit E1, Food information and composition, food waste

Digital tools to support cooperation

- 1) Specific to Platform's work, provided and maintained by the European Commission
- 2) REFRESH Community of Experts – to facilitate sharing of best practice between all interested stakeholders

Digital Tool of the EU FLW Platform: main objectives

- Facilitate the on-going exchange of information, initiatives, news on food losses and food waste developments and mutual learning between Platform members
- Simplify communication between the Commission and Platform members and support meeting preparation and follow-up (both Plenary and subgroup meetings)

Access a network

AGORA

In this network, you can discuss food waste related issues, share ideas and gather information on policy areas related to food waste prevention. You can also let the community know about the events you organise or the reports you produce! Check it out and start a discussion on your chosen food waste issue with your peers!

Thematic Networks

These open groups are accessible as soon as you are member of the AGORA Network. You don't need to request an access in order to participate.

Innovation

As the quest to divert food waste continues, among the advances being developed in the industry are food waste software applications. Some tools enable restaurants and retailers to match would-be trashed food to charities while others enable generators to sell perishable food online at a discount.

Draft Statement on Health Inequalities Coming Up! NEWS

 Draft Statement on Health Inequalities Coming Up!
31 May 2016 by Ingrid STEGEMANN (EuroHealthNet) in the Health Inequalities and Wellbeing network

EuroHealthNet is currently in the process of developing a draft statement on the importance of consistent attention and action on health inequalities in our societies.

Our aim is to feed the Statement, that we hope will be endorsed by a broad range of health and social actors active at EU level, ... read more
